

Dani Cañigueral Viñals

Dani Cañigueral Viñals holds a Bachelor's degree in Primary Education from the University of Girona. He has worked in several public schools, and since 1989 he has been working as a Primary teacher at the Montessori Palau Girona.

For the last 15 years he has been a Montessori teacher certified by the Association Montessori Internationale (AMI).

He has been responsible for coordination and has assumed functions related to pedagogical innovation in his school. He participated as a speaker at the 27th International Montessori Congress, which was held in 2013 in Portland (Oregon). The Congress showed how the Montessori Palau Girona evolved from being a traditional school to a Montessori school (giving prominence to environmentalism and the environment). With more than 15 years of experience as an AMI guide, he has directed and participated in talks, peer learning activities, workshops and seminars related to the Montessori method. He has the AMI diploma for Early Childhood Education (3-6) and Elementary Education (6-12). He is an international trainer of AMI guides in Elementary Education. He is currently enrolled in inclusive education credits at the University and is preparing to do a Doctorate in education.
